

Sinclair's decision to air it's Anti-Kerry documentary is one that should be immediately halted. During the past months, the developments and situations surrounding the Presidential race has become just plain ridiculous.

On television, one cannot sit back, flip through the channels in search of a sitcom without seeing advertisements for a Presidential candidate, news about voter fraud and political parties taking verbal jabs at each other, and scandal and controversy involving one of the candidates.

Sinclair's actions deeply discourage me from not only watching television during the proposed time of the documentary, but from trusting my tv company to send me programs which will serve my interests and as my entertainment. I have been considered a Republican until just this very year, partly because of the media and political programs that I am constantly bombarded with.

This "Stolen Honor" program is obviously backed by a Partisan corporation, and is indeed one-sided. I strongly believe that Sinclair should not be able to air this program.

Thank You
